THE WONDER OF THE AGE!
TIME, MONEY AND LABOR SAVED!
THE LATEST & BEST CHURN!

One of the latest Patents, issued on the 11th day of September, 1866, to Wm. R. McCutcheon, of Washington, Iowa, will be on exhibition in a few days at in Waynesburg, Pa. This CHURN must supersede anything of the kind heretofore produced. The simple use of its construction, and its two-fold or reversed motion, that produces butter from three to six minutes must induce the community to examine its qualities. It saves time, it saves work, and produces as much butter as any churn in existence. Mr. McCutcheon has full power to sell rights for Pennsylvania or New York State as well as to furnish churns to citizens of this county.

AN ORIGINAL LOVE STORY.

City poets may as well "hang their harps on" the Park trees. The Pegasus of Gotham is not fast enough.

We in the country, can beat his time, and not half try. Any jury of the "free and intelligent" would certainly award a leather medal to the "lover" who penned the accompanying lines.

There is something in them that city folks never dream of. The poet's description of Courtship and Love in a cottage is very touching. As they are not copyrighted here they are:

He struggled to kiss her. She struggled to prevent him so bold and undaunted; But, as smitten by lightning, he heard her exclaim, "Avant, sir!" and off he was avanted.

But when he returned with the fiendish laugh, Showing clearly that he was affronted; And threatened by male force to carry it off, She cried "Don't!" and the poor fellow dodged.

When he meekly approached, and got down at her feet, Praying loud, as before he had ranted, That she would forgive him, and try to be sweet, And said, "Can't you?"—the dear girl retorted, "Then softly he whispered—"How could you do so?"

I certainly thought I was jilted, But come thou with me, to the person we'll go; Say, with thy dear heart, and she wilted.

Then gaily he took her to see her new home—A shanty by no means unbecoming—"See! here we can live with no longing to roam."

He said, "Shan't we, my dear?" So they staid.

THE EXCHANGE OF PRISONERS.

Major General Butler's Report—General Grant's Order Suspending Exchange.

NEW YORK, August 7.—The Tribune publishes Butler's report, as Commissioner of Exchange during a portion of the rebellion, from which it appears that in December, 1863, he found the Confederate Generals anxious to exchange man for man, but the Confederate government refused to treat with General Butler on the ground that he commanded negro troops. Notification to that effect was sent to our government, which refused to admit the right of the Confederate authorities to outlaw our officers. Exchanges continued till March, 1864, when General Butler had an interview with Commissioner Ould which convinced him that retaliation would compel the rebels to abandon their refusal to exchange colored soldiers. The government was informed of these facts, and referred the matter to Gen. Grant, who in April directed Butler to decline until otherwise ordered, all further negotiations, and shortly after instructed him to consider the determination of the rebels to make a distinction between white and colored prisoners as a refusal on their part to agree to further exchange. Butler was also instructed to receive all the sick and wounded the rebels would give up, but to send no more in exchange.

In August the rebels offered to renew the exchange man for man. Gen. Grant then telegraphed the following important order: "It is hard on our men held in Southern prisons not to exchange them, but it is humanity to those left in the ranks to fight our battles. Every man released on parole, or otherwise, becomes an active soldier against us at once, directly or indirectly. If we commence a system of exchange, which liberates all prisoners taken, we will have to fight on until the South is exterminated. If we hold those caught, they amount to no more than dead men. At this particular time to release all rebel prisoners North would insure Sherman's defeat, and would compromise our safety here."

The Happy Man.

"I noticed," said Franklin, "a mechanic among a number of others, at work in a house erected but a little way from my office, who always appeared to be in a merry humor, who had a kind word and cheerful smile for every one he met. Let the day be ever so cold, gloomy, or sunless, a happy smile danced a sunbeam on his cheerful countenance. Meeting him one morning of his constant happy flow of spirits. 'No secret, Doctor,' he replied, 'I have got one of the best of wives, and when I go to work she has always a word of encouragement for me, and when I go home she meets me with a kiss; and she is sure to be ready, and she has done many things during the day to please me, that I cannot find it in my heart to speak unkind to anybody.' What influence, then, hath woman over the heart of man, to soften it and make it the fountain of cheerful and pure emotions? Speak gently then; a happy smile and a kind word of greeting, after the toils of the day are over, cost nothing, and go far towards making a home happy and peaceful."

Take Your Time.

A gentleman visiting the family of a worthy deacon in a neighboring town, had been showing the children one evening, a beautiful musical box, after which he wound up and put the instrument in his pocket. At the hour of retiring for the night, the visitor was called upon for a prayer, and having got upon his knees, was in the midst of what promised to be a somewhat prolonged petition, when suddenly in consequence of a change of position on the part of the suppliant, the musical box started gaily off with the tune, "Take your time, Miss Lucy." To say that the prayer was brought to a rather abrupt termination, and that even the deacon rose from his knees all but convulsed with laughter, is drawing the effect of the incident quite mildly.

A PRACTICAL JOKE.—During the late war, while the Army of Tennessee, under Gen. Johnston, lay encamped near Dalton, the following ridiculous scene occurred:—There was a very popular dealer in newspapers there, a perfect Braggadon in size, rivaling Daniel Lambert in rotundity of stomach. A regiment was there about to leave for Mobile, and our massive friend had some business to transact with the Colonel. So, puffing and blowing, he came up a few minutes before the train started. As he came up a soldier spied him, and called out:—"Boys, here he is." Instantly the whole regiment was on the alert, and shout after shout went up—"Here he is, here he is!" Looking, dumbfounded, the fat man said: "What's up, gentlemen? What have I done?" "You're the very man that stole our big drum and swallowed it!"—went up simultaneously. Struck with surprise, he did not know whether to laugh or get mad, but finally said:—"Well, boys, if you'll stay till evening I'll eat you."

ANTIQUATED LEATHER.—A prominent leather dealer of Philadelphia recently sold two sides of leather, weighing one hundred and two pounds, at fifty cents per pound, amounting to fifty-six dollars and ten cents. This leather is the hide of an extra fatted ox, which was killed at one of the barbecues preceding the election of General Harrison to the Presidency, about twenty-five years ago. It was originally tanned for belting purposes, but being a remarkably good pattern hide, and extra well tanned, it kept many years as a specimen. By frequent oiling it has been kept in a fine state of preservation, and is now as soft and pliable as when first tanned. The purchaser will use it for pump valves for a mine in Pennsylvania.

The man who sang "I'm lonely since my mother died," isn't quite so lonely now. The old man married again, and his step-mother makes it lively enough for him.

AND PHENIX DETERS.

The Most Successful Medicines in the World.

Established in 1835 by one of our Most Eminent Physicians, and now used throughout North and South America, with more pleasing results than any other Medicine in cases of diseased Liver, Blood or Skin, Indigestion, Costiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism and Fever and Ague.

Thousands of certificates are in our possession, giving detailed accounts of perfect CURES effected by these invaluable Medicines. They regulate the System and put all the functions of the body in a healthy condition.

Sold by all Druggists. John & Howard, Proprietors, Successors to Dr. John Moffat and Dr. W. B. Moffat, New York.

CONSUMPTION CURABLE BY DR. SCHENCK'S MEDICINES.

TO CURE CONSUMPTION, the system must be prepared so that the lungs will heal. To accomplish this, the liver and stomach must first be cleansed and a copious excretion of good humors induced, which by these medicines will be done properly, and good health made; thus building up the constitution. SCHENCK'S MANHATTAN PILLS cleanse the stomach of all bilious or mucous accumulations, and by using the dos West Tonic in connection, the appetite is restored.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP is nutritious as well as medicinal, and by using the three remedies, all diseases are expelled from the system, and good, wholesome blood made, which will repair all damage. If patients will take these medicines according to directions, Consumption very frequently in its last stage yields readily to their action. Take the pills regularly, to cleanse the liver and stomach. It does not matter how long the disease has been in the system, for the medicines are not required for months in duration they are necessary. The medicines must be kept healthy, and an appetite created to allow the Pulmonary Syrup to act on the respiratory organs properly. It is a very pleasant medicine, and all that is required to procure a permanent cure is to persevere in taking cold. Exercise about the rooms as much as possible, eat all the richest food—meat, game, and, in fact, anything the appetite craves, but be particular and moderate in use. (Ind. W. S. No. 1, 17.)
